

ISSUES TO CONSIDER: VACCINATION STRATEGIES: RING VS. MASS VACCINATION

Ring Vaccination (targeted vaccination) is a strategy in which only direct contacts (friends, family members, and coworkers) of confirmed smallpox victims are identified and vaccinated.

Mass Vaccination is a strategy in which all persons in an area (city, region, or entire country) are vaccinated, whether exposed to the smallpox virus or not.